Club News

Hi everyone. I hope you are all well. Here's Fin with the results:

Competition Secretary' Review

Hi everyone. We had great evening of judging from Rob Heslop from the Forest of Dean Camera Club. Rob worked his way manfully through 21 Print and 31 DPI entries for the first set subject competition of this season. Rob was able to provide thoughtful feedback on all entries with helpful and constructive suggestions for improvement throughout the evening in a light hearted manner which was appreciated by all members present. It was great to see 15 different winners from 18 possible awards. A great spread of club members. We look forward to welcoming Rob back to Cirencester in the future.

And here's Dave with his weekly round up:

Programme Secretary's Review

Well done to everyone who got an award in the Competition B judging this week. I'll leave Fin to summarise the results. I thought there were some super images. The new 6 competition format is working well I think – it makes for a less stressful evening and gives time for the winning prints to be viewed close up. The judge put a lot of thought into his analysis and gave some very useful feedback with his suggestions for improvement. I imagine he won't want to see another square image for a while though!

Next week we welcome an external speaker, Brian Lee from Witney Photo Group, telling us about his ten years on the road in his 'My Diamond Decade' project. From September 2013 until September 2023 Brian explored and photographed as much as possible of the whole of Great Britain. He will explain the planning that went into the project and the refinements he made to the process along the way, plus various apps he found to be of great use.

As well as showing us projected images he will bring his A3 photo books, ten of them, one for each year, for members to peruse during the break.

I'm hoping Brian's presentation might encourage a few members to step forward and offer something for our Travelogue UK evening on the 12th January. We have two definite contributions so far – Scotland and Northumberland. Somewhere further south would be nice!

It will be our normal start time of 7:30pm.

I hope to see you there.

Dave

We've heard from Paul

As some of you may know, I have been involved in the 'Cirencester History – A Different Perspective' photo competition. The good news is that Andy was one of the Highly Commended entries. Well done Andy and here's a pic of the award winners and Andy's winning image.

Thanks

Paul

Mount Everest - you know you want to!

Ever fancied getting to the top of Mount Everest without doing all the climbing bit. Well, you can always get a drone and go from the comfort of base camp (or lower!). There's been a few of these videos over the years as drone quality improves and they always make great watching. Take a look:

Here's a good idea!

A photographer has transformed a phone box that is set to be removed into an exhibition of "astonishing" images he has taken from through the glass. Chris Bennet has been taking images from booth on Penny Street from Lancaster for the past five years as the tones created by the glass saw his photos "spring to life".

But a notice was recently put up by BT to say the phone box will be taken down at the end of the year. Mr Bennet told BBC Radio Lancashire that the telecoms giant has let him turn it into an exhibition of his work before it is taken away. Check out the story:

Award-winning wildlife photographers crowned

A common frog captured in a golden pool has taken the top prize in a wildlife photography contest. The image of the amphibian was taken by Peter Smith at Letcombe Valley in Oxfordshire. The photographer leapfrogged the competition in the Berkshire, Buckinghamshire and Oxfordshire Wildlife Trust's photography contest. There were eight more winners in categories ranging from "nature on your doorstep" to "mobile phone photography". Check out the winners here

Definitions of Set Subjects

SQUARE FORMAT: typically refers to using a square aspect ratio (1:1) intentionally as a creative constraint or theme. This can be achieved in camera, or by cropping during post processing. So, you are being asked to explore how composition, balance, or storytelling changes when restricted to a square. The square naturally invites symmetry, central framing, and geometric precision and works well for portraits, minimalism, or patterns. Rule of thirds still applies but feels different, centred subjects often look stronger in square, and negative space becomes more powerful. Explore how the square changes emotional or narrative impact. How does it shift the viewer's attention compared to landscape or portrait orientation?

AUTOMOTIVE: A follow- on from Amy Shore's Presentation in October. A chance to explore and creatively interpret vehicles and the world around them as your primary theme. This can go far beyond simply photographing a car — it's an invitation to tell stories, explore design, motion, culture, and even emotion through the lens of automotive imagery.

IN THE KITCHEN: Typically, a scene encompassing components or activities that you would find in the kitchen. This could be food still life, equipment and utensils or an activity such as stirring a pot.
