Club News

Hi everyone. I hope you are all well. The big news for all you Canon fans is that the wait is over - the Canon R6 III has finally been announced after months of rumours. Who's going to be first?! Meanwhile here's Dave with his weekly roundup:

Programme Secretary's Review

Dave's weekly round up

Hi everyone. I hope you all enjoyed the Brian Lee presentation this week where he told us all about his 'Diamond Decade' project. I was impressed by the number of great images he got from just 4 weeks each year, spring and autumn, in the various regions. The phenomenal amount of planning, research and day-to-day scheduling he did certainly paid off.

The Apps he mentioned were LightTrac and Tides. I haven't been able to find those in the Android app store so possibly they are Apple only. As he said there are probably other similar apps available. The willyweather.co.uk website he mentioned seems to be a useful source of weather and tides information too. It was also a good idea to get friendly with the locals to get advice on the more unusual locations and the best vantage points. A clean Aston 'Marion' came in useful too, to add that something extra to the composition.
I enjoyed the AV at the end.

There were a few locations I recognized, but many more stunning ones that I didn't. As I said at the end, we are still looking for presenters for the Travelogue UK evening on the 12th January. I'm hoping a couple of you were inspired enough to step forward! They don't all have to be 'Awesome Man!' Images, just an interesting location within the British Isles. Brian's ten A3 photo books were impressive too. He also sent me the links for his websites:

<https://brianlee8.wixsite.com/my-diamond-decade>

and

<https://brianlee8.myportfolio.com/>

I didn't know Adobe users had the Portfolio option in the plan – that's something I will definitely look into. Brian also sent details of the service he used for the infrared conversion on his Nikon.

[https://www.protechrepairs.co.uk/infrared\_conversion - filter\_choices.html](https://www.protechrepairs.co.uk/infrared_conversion - filter_choices.html)

Next week we have more AV, the Cheltenham International Salon Presentation. We will see some of the best images from the 2025 Salon across the various categories – Open Colour, Monochrome, Creative, Nature and Scapes. This is always an entertaining and inspiring evening, and as usual several of our members had successes this year, so hopefully we will see a few familiar images.

It will be our normal start time of 7:30pm.

I hope to see you there.

Dave

Cirencester Advent Market

David has been in touch - Volunteers wanted to capture the Cirencester Advent Market and Christmas Light Switch on event

Hi Martyn.

I have received the following note from Cirencester Council regarding their Advent Market. I have said that we will respond so all I need now is some volunteers!

Hi David

I'm reaching out from the Community Services Team at Cirencester Town Council, we're hosting our annual Advent Market and Christmas Light Switch on event on the weekend of November 29th/30th and we're looking for someone to help capture photos from the day at this much-loved vibrant event. We wanted to see if any of the members of The Cirencester Camera Club might be interested in photographing the event. While we're not able to offer payment this time, it could be a great opportunity to gain experience, build their portfolios, and be credited for their work. If interested, we'd be happy to provide any additional details.

Please let me know if this might be of interest to your members, or if there's someone specific I should reach out to.

Kind regards

The Community Services Team

(Becky, Sarah, Valerie & Gemma)

I've been in touch with the pub and everything is confirmed. I should get the menu to circulate in the next few weeks, and we normally give them about 10 days' notice so get ready to let me know what you would like to eat plus any allergies. Pay on the night:

2025 Standard Chartered Weather Photographer of the Year

Yes the iPhones are marching on. The Royal Meteorological Society has revealed the winners of the 2025 Standard Chartered Weather Photographer of the Year competition, celebrating the 10th anniversary as one of the world's most visually striking photography awards. Selected from over 4,000 entries from 84 countries, the winning images capture the beauty, drama, and unpredictable power of the natural world. This year, the Mobile Category title was awarded to Kyaw Zay Lin for his gripping image of a sudden monsoon storm at Inle Lake, titled Fishing in raining season. And it might surprise some that this photograph was captured entirely on a Xiaomi smartphone camera – proving that you don't need a DSLR or mirrorless camera to capture high-quality imagery. ### Definitions of Set Subjects

SQUARE FORMAT: typically refers to using a square aspect ratio (1:1) intentionally as a creative constraint or theme. This can be achieved in camera, or by cropping during post processing. So, you are being asked to explore how composition, balance, or storytelling changes when restricted to a square. The square naturally invites symmetry, central framing, and geometric precision and works well for portraits, minimalism, or patterns. Rule of thirds still applies but feels different, centred subjects often look stronger in square, and negative space becomes more powerful. Explore how the square changes emotional or narrative impact. How does it shift the viewer's attention compared to landscape or portrait orientation?

AUTOMOTIVE: A follow- on from Amy Shore's Presentation in October. A chance to explore and creatively interpret vehicles and the world around them as your primary theme. This can go far beyond simply photographing a car — it's an invitation to tell stories, explore design, motion, culture, and even emotion through the lens of automotive imagery.

IN THE KITCHEN: Typically, a scene encompassing components or activities that you would find in the kitchen. This could be food still life, equipment and utensils or an activity such as stirring a pot.
