Club News

Hi everyone. I hope you are all well and looking forward to Xmas. We had the first of our Christmas Zoom events which are now a permanent fixture in the calendar. A good idea given our Christmas busy time and inclement weather and a good turnout of 27 members. Here's Dave with his weekly summary:

Programme Secretary's Review

Hi everyone. Over 25 of us logged in for our first Zoom of the Christmas period to watch Andy Phillips present 'More Than Meets The Eye'. Judging by the discussion afterwards and a few WhatsApp comments it went down well. To be honest I was a bit disappointed as I was expecting something more along the lines of 'here's a shot that all the other photographers missed', but to me it seemed to be more about how to get something extra out of a series of pretty average images. Making something out of nothing! The wedding ones that his wife mainly took were the most interesting for me! Otherwise it was basically landscapes, still lifes and nature, with a lot of abstract too. Nothing really special, but maybe that just reflects my own personal tastes.

The pseudo ICM Photoshop editing process was different, and something I will try. I also thought the comments about time constraints and pressure leading to increased creativity were interesting. I like the idea of having a practical evening where we take photos somewhere for just an hour and then show/compare back at club what we have got. I remember we did this once before when we were meeting closer to the Abbey Grounds, so we just need to find a suitable interesting and accessible venue. Fin mentioned there is a park opposite the hall, who knew!

I'm never sure about infrared images either, though again it is a personal thing. I have indeed used an IR edit a few times, to enhance an otherwise ordinary image. Making something out of nothing again. IR is something a few speakers have mentioned though so I wonder if there is anyone in club who has tried it. It could be a future Take4 topic.

Looking again at the presentation details I think Andy delivered, as he did say it would be all about how he creates his images, to produce something different that other photographers would miss. There were some good tips about observational skills, perception, use of long lenses and composition. Also some useful (though rather quick) Photoshop processing tips. I asked him afterwards by email how he organized his images by the way. He uses Adobe Bridge, and hates Lightroom!

Finally, I always like to learn a new word – taphophile. I think I might be one myself as I take a lot of photos around Northleach churchyard!

*Next week we have the Christmas meal and quiz of course, it will be fun. See you there,

Martin Parr

It was sad to learn of Martin Parr's passing particularly as he had only recently been on the tour circuit promoting his autobiography 'Utterly Lazy and Inattentive: Martin Parr in Words and Pictures'. Some of us went to see him at the Cheltenham Literary Festival on 14th Oct (see photo below) and it begs the question as to whether he knew then that his days were numbered. He was diagnosed with Myeloma in 2021 which impacted on his mobility. If you haven't seen the documentary 'I am Martin Parr', on BBC catch up, I can recommend it. Here's a link:

And here's a 1986 BBC interview:

Wex Photo have produced a shortened obituary on YouTube taken from the BBC documentary:

And here's a photo of us sharing our thoughts after the lit fest talk:

And here's one Mike took - he takes up the story

I was behind Quentin Lake in the [Lit Fest] book signing queue. He presented Martin with a copy of his book 'The Perimeter' and asked me to take a photo of them. I've just finished reading Martin's book - what comes across is his humanity and humour. A sad loss.

External Exhibitions and Competitions

The world of landscape photography has a new masterpiece: Lukas Trixl from Austria succeeded at the 12th International Landscape Photographer of the Year awards with his stunning image of New Zealand's Taranaki volcano – captured during a rare 30-minute window when the clouds cleared. Trixl's photograph titled The Land Before Time is officially the new International Landscape Photograph of the Year 2025. This picture transports us to what feels like a landscape from the age of dinosaurs, with towering greenery and a perfectly reflected volcanic peak reminiscent of a scene from Jurassic Park.

The winning photograph, a microscope image of two threads of silk from the Australian net-caster spider, has just been announced as the top honor in this year's competition, run in association with the Royal Photographic Society (RPS) – a global celebration of images that reveal the beauty of science.

Definitions of Set Subjects

SQUARE FORMAT: typically refers to using a square aspect ratio (1:1) intentionally as a creative constraint or theme. This can be achieved in camera, or by cropping during post processing. So, you are being asked to explore how composition, balance, or storytelling changes when restricted to a square. The square naturally invites symmetry, central framing, and geometric precision and works well for portraits, minimalism, or patterns. Rule of thirds still applies but feels different, centred subjects often look stronger in square, and negative space becomes more powerful. Explore how the square changes emotional or narrative impact. How does it shift the viewer's attention compared to landscape or portrait orientation?

AUTOMOTIVE: A follow- on from Amy Shore's Presentation in October. A chance to explore and creatively interpret vehicles and the world around them as your primary theme. This can go far beyond simply photographing a car — it's an invitation to tell stories, explore design, motion, culture, and even emotion through the lens of automotive imagery.

IN THE KITCHEN: Typically, a scene encompassing components or activities that you would find in the kitchen. This could be food still life, equipment and utensils or an activity such as stirring a pot.
